

ODETTE ENGLAND

British/Australian, b. 1975

Fold 15 and Fold 23 from the Love Notes series

2018

Odette England is a British-Australian photographer who currently teaches at Amherst College in the US. The photographs on the right are featured in her collection Love Notes. Although she cannot always be in Australia, she sends the negatives of her family's farmland to her parents who "read" them and send them back to her as if they were love notes. The effect created by the folding and other natural damages writes and tells a story unique to each negative.